

IFS Energy & Resources – Business Process Outsourcing (BPO)

Business process outsourcing through IFS alleviates the burden of back-office work in upstream oil and gas.

1. IFS has been providing outsourcing services longer than any other BPO provider in upstream oil and gas.
2. IFS' knowledge and experience span 100 companies from small startups to large operators.
3. More than 20 BPO experts and 500 industry and software specialists comprise the IFS team that delivers BPO. Highly experienced staff tending to your back-office work eliminates the worry of finding and hiring qualified people.
4. IFS outsourcing helps companies cut costs, consolidate, and capitalize on efficiencies.
5. Setup can take as little as 30 days.

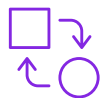

Benefits

Lowers operational costs. No investment needed in staffing or IT infrastructure.

Enables flexibility. BPO is customized to fit your changing needs over time.

Replaces a reactive model with a proactive one through outsourced talent, capabilities, and technologies.

Grows to scale. You'll have the ability to scale as you grow through BPO or migrate in-house, as needed.

Manages a complex process. You can rely on IFS, with our years of experience, to sort through the intricacies of the oil and gas industry.

Eases performance analytics. BPO makes analyzing performance – by company, well, groups of wells, or even basin – a breeze, allowing you to focus on your core business.

Streamlines operations by contracting with a third-party provider with proven processes.

Makes services predictable. Once you're comfortable outsourcing certain tasks, you can divest additional tasks and responsibilities knowing the service and care you'll get.
